PROFILE

A detail-oriented, communicative and organised frontend developer. I have always loved building things and bringing work to life, be it making music, building pottery or learning carpentry. It is this same energy that I put into building user-friendly frontend applications and it is the sense of reward that drives me to build robust and well-functioning technology.

I am looking for my next exciting opportunity to write clean, scalable code. I am always willing to expand my technical knowledge and work to find the best long-term solutions. I am a developer with previous experience in sales, which helped to develop skills in communicating with customers and internal stakeholders, and inspired an on-going interest in the broader business picture.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Bayes Esports Gmbh, Berlin

Frontend Developer (Mid-level)   DEC 2024 - PRESENT

Frontend Developer (Junior)   JULY 2022 - DEC 2024

- Daily technologies: Typescript, Javascript, React, Redux, Mantine, Bootstrap, SCSS + CSS Modules, Figma.
- Working across 10 projects (internal tools and external products) - constantly adapting focus to work on the tickets which are most important to the business,
- Participation in planning and retrospective meetings with product managers, sharing ideas and insights into the best technical solutions for the users' needs.
- Collaborating and communicating effectively with backend engineers to deliver RESTful API integrations.
- Offered timely and meaningful code reviews on Github for my peers.
- Refactoring legacy code to reduce future development time and keep projects efficiently maintainable.
- Frequent deployments of code to production, always taking great care in the process, utilizing tools such as Release Please and Circle CI/CD.
- Regular and active participation in meetings with designers, offering feedback and suggestions when appropriate.

Key achievements:

- Promoted from Junior to Mid-Level Developer after consistently reaching quarterly review goals.
- Worked on the initial setup of rebuild project for our customer-facing tool Riot League of Legends Data Portal 2.0.
- Given responsibility for many design decisions for our Live Odds product when there was no designer. Made many important UX/UI decisions which created the foundation of the product.
- In my own time I continue to take courses on Coursera (API integration and Advanced React) and read regular technology blogs.
